PROPOSALS
FOR PUBLISHING AN
HISTORY OF THE LIFE
OF THE ILLUSTRIOUS
GEORGE WASHINGTON,
Commander in Chief of the American Armies during our revolutionary war with Great Britain, first President of the United States, and since, Lieutenant General of the Army.
BY JOSEPH SCOTT,
Author of the Modern Geographical Dictionary, in four volumes octavo.
OF the various methods which different writers pursue in order to convey useful knowledge to mankind, Biography stands confessedly among the first. There is none more interesting—none more instructive and entertaining. The histories of distinguished heroes, who have, by their exalted virtues, and noble and splendid actions, been the principal means of redeeming their respective countries from the corroding hand of tyranny, have in all ages been considered the most entertaining, instructive, and important to mankind. They afford example; and example is more powerful than precept. It strengthens, by a plain and easy mode of analogical reasoning, the principles of the timid, determines and fixes those that are wavering, and ultimately lays the basis for that harmony and coincidence of sentiment among the citizens; from which only, a nation can hope to derive rank, consequence and stability.
Impressed with lively sentiments of the eminent virtues of that distinguished HERO and PATRIOT, the history of whose life I have undertaken to write; it was not till after much reflection I resolved on issuing these proposals.—The following considerations induced me to this; First, having obtained in the course of an extensive correspondence, with many gentlemen of talents and information, a large stock of original materials concerning the life of this Illustrious Citizen; to give form and body to these, in the manner of history, will preserve many important things that otherwise would most probably be lost. Secondly, as many of the most interesting transactions of his life, since he resigned his commission as Commander in chief of our revolutionary armies, are very imperfectly recorded, and little understood; yet the greater part of them being fresh in the memories of many, this must be the fittest time to embody them; before a succession of objects, which every day brings forth, wears off the minuter circumstances. There are many of these circumstances important and interesting; as it is universally acknowledged, that great actions, like immense rivers, flow from small beginnings.
CONDITIONS.
I. The Life of General Washington will contain nearly 400 pages octavo, printed on fine paper, and in a style of elegance equal to any work that has appeared from an American press.
II. It will be embellished with a striking likeness of the General, executed by one of the first artists.
III. Subscribers' names will be annexed, as patrons.
IV. Each subscriber is to pay two dollars, one half on subscribing, the remainder on the delivery of the work.
☞ Subscriptions in this city are received at No. 297 Arch street, next door to the north west corner of Eighth street.

Foreign Intelligence.

LONDON, November 1.

The injury the Commercial world has ſuſtained by the numerous and extenſive failures at Hamburgh; the immenſity of dead capital through this country, and the loſs that would reſult not only to the Merchant but the funded Capitaliſt from taking to market an extraordinary quantity of ſtock, has, we learn from highly reſpectable authority, induced the Band to digeſt a plan, ſome months ſince ſubmitted by Mr. Pope to the Miniſter, to throw a conſiderable ſum into circulation by the nominal loan of at leaſt two millions.

The plan, which is an improvement on Commercial Exchequer Bills, propoſes that not leſs than two millions ſterling ſhall be inveſted in a committee, which ſhall be empowered to accept from the Merchant a transfer of ſtock, upon the amount of which he ſhall be permitted to draw on the Committee at the rate of 40 per cent. on the 3 per Cents.—50 on the 4's,—and 60 on the 5 per Cents. which draft (bearing an intereſt of 3¼ per centum per day) on being accepted, to paſs as National Paper in all departments of the revenue, &c.—The firſt idea was not only to confine the accommodation to two millions, but the date of the notes to two months, in which caſe a circulating medium of twelve millions annually would be afforded to the public: but as the benefit would be proportioned to the ſum advanced (at leaſt within that ſum ſeveral times multiplied,) and as there not only would not be a particle of riſk, but the ſtamp revenue would receive a material augmentation, we learn that it is in contemplation to conſiderably extend the ſum and the time.

November 2.

All the accounts brought by the Mail from Switzerland are confuſed and contradictory. It appears, however, that Suwarrow has removed his head quarters from Coire to Fieldkirch, and that the whole of the Ruſſian force is now in the Griſons and the Voralberg, where their heavy artillery has arrived. They are, it is ſaid, to march to the lake of Conſtance, through the Griſons. The Ruſſians, Bavarians and Conde's corps are to be concentrated into one army, under the command of Suwarrow. Hotze's and Nauendorfs corps, with the contingents of the Empire, are to be under the Archduke. It is ſaid that the general attack is to be made on Maſſena; but the ſeaſon is, perhaps, too far advanced to admit of any very active operations againſt him. It is probable that the allies will content themſelves with occupying ſtrong poſitions, where they may receive reinforcements. The following is ſaid to be their plan:

The Ruſſians to occupy the diſtricts from the lake of Como to the Voralberg, to cover the Griſon country, and an Imperial corps of reſerve is to protect the celebrated paſs near Martins bridge and Nauders. The important poſition from Lucien Steig to Bregenz is to be occupied by General Jellachich, for the protection of Tyrol, and another corps of reſerve is to be cantoned from Fueſſen to Kempten, in which new poſition great reinforcements of infantry are expected—The plains round the lake of Conſtance are choſen for the center poſts of the cavalry, and the head quarters of the Archduke are to be at Stokach. General Sztaray will occupy the Black Foreſt. Gen. Meerfeld is to command the corps of obſervation againſt Kehl. The Ruſſian troops will be concentrated on one point, with the Bavarian auxilary corps, and the army of Conde, under the chief command of Suwarrow. They are eſtimated at 50,000 men.

November 7.

The intelligence from Egypt publiſhed in the laſt French papers, contains ſeveral curious details, among which the following are not the leaſt intereſting.

At the beginning of the naval action of Aboukir, admiral Bruеys was wounded in the hand, and ſoon after received a ſevere wound in the head, but would not quit the deck. A minute after he received a ball which only left him the power of ſqueezing the hand of rear admiral Gantheaume, who wiſhed to conduct him below. He died uttering the following expreſſion: "No! a French admiral ought to die at his poſt."

Captain Dupetit Thouars, after having an arm and two legs carried away, called for a pipe, and having ſmoaked a few moments, expired, ſaying—"Crew of the Tonnant, never ſtrike to the enemy."

General Buonaparte arrived this morning (October 16) at 6 o'clock, with general Berthier and citizens Monge and Bertholet. The other Frenchmen from Egypt arrived in the courſe of the day.

Some Journals have ſtated that Buonaparte was induced to return to France in conſequence of his hearing of Jourdan's diſaſters; while others have aſſerted that his return was haſtened by the news of Scherer's defeat. For our part, we maintain that his return was occaſioned by the misfortune of both. Redacteur.

SUWARROW.

Frontiers of Swabia, October 3.

Yeſterday morning the Ruſſian Generals received the following order from Field-Marſhal Suwarrow.

GENTLEMEN,

"You will be anſwerable with your heads for every inch of ground that you ſhall give up to the enemy. I have advanced by way of Schwitz, and am ready to repair your errors; ſhew therefore a courage and reſolution which nothing can ſubdue."

SWABIA, October 10.

The following Brigade Orders have been publiſhed, concerning the victory obtained by the Imperial Ruſſian General Roſenberg:

"Head-Quarters, Gengesback, Oct. 9.

"The troops are previouſly informed, that the Imperial Ruſſian General Roſenberg has attacked the enemy near Schwitz, and defeated him, with the loſs of ſeveral thouſand men and a General; the General of Diviſion, Lecourbe was made priſoner, and ſeven pieces of cannon were taken.

(Signed) "Count MERVELDT,
Major-General.

VIENNA, October 9.

Account from Conſtantinople ſtate, that the Grand Signior has given to Sir Sydney Smith the title of the Brave, and has made him a preſent of thirty purſes in ducats. The Grand Vizir's army is not expected to arrive in Egypt before November. One half of the deputies from Zante, Cephalonia, &c. who have arrived at Conſtantinople, have proceeded from thence for St. Peterſburgh.

The Cardinals aſſembled at Venice have had ſeveral meetings relating to the Conclave, which will be held in the iſland of St. Giorgio (one of the iſlands of which Venice conſiſts) in the Convent of the Benedictines, for the election of a Pope. Signor Gonzam has been appointed Secretary to the Holy College.

His Imperial Majeſty has appointed the Archduke John to the rank of Major Gen.

NANTES, October 19.

This morning at 4 o'clock, 2000 Chouans from the environs of Segre and Augurs, entered this city without ſtriking a blow, although our population amounts to 70,000 ſouls. They remained in poſſeſſion of the place during two hours, opened all the priſons, and put to death ſeveral excellent republicans. An action at length took place between them and the few troops in the town, ſupported by ſome patriots. The Chouans were forced to retreat, and were purſued near half a mile beyond the walls of Nantes. How unexpected this event! What idea can we form at preſent of the vigilance and energy of the civil and military authorities, and of the patriotiſm of the moſt conſiderable town of the Weſt? Gen. Griney had ſix days before marched out for the purpoſe of reconnoitring, and had advanced as far as Conde with a body of 600 men. The Chouans fired in the night of the 16th on the advanced poſts of that ſmall town. The next morning a very warm attack took place, and ſeveral on both ſides were killed and wounded. On the 18th they determined on the invaſion of Nantes, and effected it with ſhouts of "long live the King and Religion."

N. B. The Chouans did not enter the arſenal, or take away any arms. They marched towards Rennes, and are ſaid have paid a viſit to the Receiver General of Taxes.

DARMSTADT, October 22.

The accounts received on the 19th of the entry of the French into Heidelberg and Manheim are confirmed. As early as on the 15th and 16th, ſkirmiſhes began to take place between the advanced poſts at Weinheim and Lorſch, in which the Auſtrians, not being in ſufficient force, were obliged to retreat and the French croſſed the Rhine near Worms and Frankenthal. On the 17th the general of diviſion, Lorget, the ſame who repulſed the armed peaſants on the 5th, advanced cloſe to the bridge of the Necker, at Heidelberg, but was not able to deſtroy it, being of maſſy ſtone. The Imperialiſts lined it with batteries, and on the neighboring mountains they had planted ſmall field-pieces which commanded the bridge. The The French attacked it by ſtorm, but were three times repulſed, with the loſs of ſix hundred men. The Prince of Schwartzenberg expected that the two ſquadrons of heavy cavalry, which were advancing to his aſſiſtance by way of Heilbronn, would arrive in time, but, finding afterwards that this was impoſſible, he evacuated Heidelberg on the morning of the 18th, and ſent orders to Manheim for the evacuation of that city. A diviſion of his ſmall corps marched towards Heilbronn, and the remainder towards Bruchſal and Philipſburg. An hour afterwards, the French entered Heidelberg, and demanded a contribution of 100,000 livres. They alſo entered Manheim on the 18th, in the beſt order, but demanded a contribution of 4500 florins. On the following day they quitted that city, to march againſt Heilbronn and Philipſburgh. It is juſt a month ſince the Archduke Charles drove the French from Manheim by ſtorm. Againſt ſome of the inhabitants, who at that time had appeared to ſide with the Auſtrians, they threatened to proceed with the utmoſt ſeverity, but many of them had fled to Carlſruhe.

The Prince of Schwartzenberg has taken his poſition on the road leading to Heilbronn.

At Sinzheim and Furſelden are ſtill ſome Imperial troops. General Lorget attacked them on the 20th, but was repulſed, and is ſaid to have loſt 800 men. Yeſterday a heavy cannonade was heard from the neighborhood of the Necker. The French ſtill occupied Heidelberg on the 21ſt.

October 23, in the evening.

It is this morning reported that general Sztarray had advanced againſt Heidelberg, and ſucceeded in driving the French from that place, but no particulars are yet known. Travellers ſtate that the Prince of Schwartzenberg had been ſlightly wounded, and that an Imperial Colonel had been taken priſoner by the French.

A diviſion of French Chaſſeurs were advancing into the Odenwald, but were driven back by the peaſants.

The French declared on their entering Manheim that they would conſider the Palatinate as a hoſtile country. For the expence of the head quarters they impoſed a daily contribution of 3500 florins on the city. From Aſchaffenberg many families had fled to Hanau and other places, but tranquility is reſtored there. In Franconia the peaſants are riſing in a maſs. There are now only 2300 French troops at Mentz.

The Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA,
MONDAY EVENING, JANUARY 13.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in the Eastern States, containing some remarks on our national CREDIT, which merit serious attention.

"You express strong doubts whether Congress will now pay any more attention to the engagement of the United States, to pay the interest on the New Emission Securities, than heretofore, by reason of the present heavy expences of government. The plain truth is, this little debt, is due to a number of obscure soldiers and citizens whose political weight commanded no attention in Congress, when the funding system was formed,—and from the same cause, has resulted the total neglect ever since. Hence their feeble memorials and petitions, which have been repeated almost every session of Congress, having nothing to support them but the naked pledge of the faith of the United States, unaided by party interest, or the political views of leading men, their interest has been sacrificed from year to year, notwithstanding every thing sacred in government was pledged to secure punctual payment. I cannot but view this neglect in Congress as an infinite sacrifice of national honor without an object. It excites astonishment in the mind of those who examine with attention the footsteps of Congress. Although the obscurity of those 10 influential creditors may limit their complaints of the injustice they suffer from the violated faith of the United States, to small circles in the class of common citizens, yet as the most deadly enemies to this government could not form a more destructive wish, than to have this precedent remain,—this breach of public faith continue open for them to attack whenever they can injure the government most by proving it faithless;—It seems too serious a subject for wise legislatures to pass by. In this advanced period of our national government, its character is of infinite importance, and nothing ought to be adopted or neglected that cannot bear the scrutiny of reason and accord with the purest principles of honor and good faith. To neglect these creditors, evinces the want of principle, and to delay for want of funds such a trifling debt, (as you suggest they may) is to acknowledge bankruptcy. Who can tell the destinies that await this country; we are growing with amazing rapidity and seem to be the beginning of a vast empire. The eyes of Europe watch our progress with a jealous view, and although their true interest would lead all the nations to perpetual harmony and peace with us, yet the want of wisdom no less than the evil passions, may lead them to be our enemies: And as all countries produce factious men and traitors who join any party or any nation to injure their own, when led so to do by their ambition or interest or revenge; our nation cannot hope to escape the calamities which have attended all others.

'Now I ask you, who are in the habit of deep contemplation and extended views, what is to be the bulwark and the impenetrable shield to our government and country if a long foreign war, or strong internal convulsions should come upon us?—The history of the world proves, and our short experience attests, that an universal and unlimited public CREDIT which would command the property and the service of the whole people, could alone support a long contest and save the country from a fatal division—or total ruin. In the CHARACTER of every government is its strength: It must have armies to compel, or credit to draw the supplies and services it wants; if there is not a general belief in its power to compel, or in its unalterable good faith, it cannot command either. Our national character is yet imperfect; the character of its Legislature is still more so; both must be strengthened and consolidated by all possible means, or both will perish. It is therefore painful to observe legislators trifling with the vital principles of our political existence.

The Fathers of the Revolution, the luminaries of America, are extinguished one after another,—and the sun of our hemisphere whose resplendent talents and commanding virtues held our eyes to the point of public duty and bound our heart to obey—the immortal WASHINGTON has bid us a last adieu—and ADAMS stands with his "starry pinions on" ready for the flight.—Where are the men who are to fill their walks of glory and open a nations eyes?—How strong the impression of duty at this momentous æra in the mind of all electors, to look round our country for genius and virtue to to fill the places of piddling legislators who calculate only for the day or by the hour, with men whose views extend to distant ages and are bounded only by eternity. A great national sentiment must pervade the whole people and thereby produce a central energy."

Extract of a letter from Alexandria, dated January 4, 1800.

Gen. WASHINGTON has willed all his own Negroes free, the number of which are one hundred and thirty; the remainder on the estates belonged to his wife.

"They are to enjoy their freedom at the death of their Mistress, and as much sooner as she pleases—and it is expected it will not be long before she will liberate them all.

"Lawrence Washington and his wife (relations of the General lately deceased) have also freed all theirs, the number of which is very considerable.

"Those of General Washington's who are advanced in years, are to be maintained by his estate."

An article signed Count Meervelt, mentions a victory to have been gained over the French Gen Lecourbe.

In the council of ancients, October 18, a member announced, in the name of a deputation from the Sarthe, "that on the 16th, Mans (a considerable town in one of the departments) had fallen into the power of the Chouans. About 60 grenadiers defended themselves till they were overpowered by twelve hundred Chouans, who put all the republicans to death. All the public banks were pillaged, and the most terrible devastation committed." These facts were ordered to be sent in a message to the Directory.

Another member observed, that it was no longer the assemblage of a few robbers—it is an organized civil war; bands of Royalists provided with artillery and cavalry, who give battle, besiege and take towns.

A Paris article of Oct. 24, mentions that Generals Laroche and Legrand were then before a council of war; the former for having surrendered Manheim, and the latter for having evacuated Auenheim.

It is also stated in a late Paris paper, that an English corvette which was bringing to Lavendee 300 emigrants, was met opposite the coasts of the Lower Loire by a French frigate which sunk it. No emigrant would surrender, and they all perished; the crew were saved, and are at Naittes.

On the 27th Oct. his serene highness Prince William of Orange, arrived at his father's house in Conduit-street, London, from the army in Holland.

By the capture of the two Spanish prizes, Lord Bridport received an addition to his income of 125,000l. And captains Gore, Digby, Young and Pierrepont, receive 60,000l. each.

There are reports in circulation, that the Gen. Greene frigate, capt Perry, has been captured, off Guadaloupe, by two French frigates. We know not the source of the report; but we learn from a creditable source, that on the 2d December, the gen. Greene was sailing in company off Cape-Francois, with the Constitution and Boston frigate. Boston Centinel.

A person who signs himself "James Boddington," in an advertisement published in a Norfolk paper, professes to have discovered longitude on the 7th of January, 1799, which he was prevented from making known at an earlier period by a long sickness; but says that he is now prepared, provided suitable encouragement be given, to develope the principles on a very plain and easy scale. The advertisement is dated "Navy-Yard, Gosport, December 28th."

Died—On the 1st of October last, at Port Mary, his seat in Scotland, David Sproat, Esq. formerly a respectable merchant in Philadelphia.

CINCINNATI.

At a meeting of the Pennsylvania State Society of the Cincinnati, held at the State House, in Philadelphia, on the 21st of December, 1799,

BRIGADIER GEN. MACPHERSON
IN THE CHAIR,

The following Resolutions were moved by Major JACKSON, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That, in veneration of the exalted virtues, patriotism, and public services of our late most excellent, beloved, and ever to be lamented President General, George Washington,—and as a tribute of the deepest sorrow, and most affectionate attachment to his endeared and illustrious memory, the Members of this Society will wear mourning, connected with the Badge of the Society, during six months.

Resolved, That a strip of black Ribband passing along the centre of the Ribband of the Order, be added on this occasion.

The following resolutions were moved by gen. Macpherson and unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That Major Jackson be requested to prepare and pronounce an Eulogium on the character of General Washington, embracing a summary review of his Civil and Military services; and that the same be delivered before this Society on Saturday the 22d day of February next, at one o'clock, P. M. at such place as the Standing Committee to whom the arrangements of the day are referred, shall determine.

Resolved, That the President of the United States and his family—the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Members of both Houses of Congress, the Heads of Departments, the Judiciary, and such other officers of the General and State Governments as may then be in Philadelphia, be respectfully invited to honor the Society with their presence on the occasion.

FIRE BUCKETS.

☞ The great inattention shewn by a number of Citizens, by suffering their Fire Buckets to remain for days and sometimes for weeks in the streets and alleys, adjacant to where they have been used at fires, has induced the Mayor to direct the High Constable, at the expiration of four days from the time that a fire shall happen in the City, to have collected and removed to the City Hall, the Fire Buckets which he may find in the Streets after that period. The owner will thereby have an opportunity of recovering their Buckets, which perhaps, otherwise would have been lost by their neglect. A number is now at the City Hall.

It is discovered that the TWENTY DOLLAR Albany Bank Bills, have been Counterfeited, and many of them are in circulation. Notice to this effect has been given to the Cashier of the Bank of New-York, by the Cashier of the Bank of Albany. Not having received the specific marks that distinguish the counterfeit from the genuine, we can only mention it generally, to induce greater caution.

BOSTON, January 6.

The East-India convoy, it is expected, will sail from New-Port, in the course of this week.

BALTIMORE, January 9.

By capt. E. Pearce, 30 days from Martinique (via Wilmington, N. C.) we are informed that the schooner ——, captain Strong of this port has been captured by a French privateer, and sent into Guadaloupe. The captain and supercargo were sent to prison on the 25th November; and brig Jason, capt. Smith of Salem, chartered by J. Adams of this city, has also been captured and sent into ditto.

The brig ——, of Alexandria, chartered by G. Wood, Esq. has arrived safe at Martinique.

Capt. P. also informs, that the frigate Adams overhauled and captured the French privateer our last accounts stated her to be in chase of. She mounted 8 guns and 64 men; the latter, the Insurgent, as a cartel, took into Guadaloupe and exchanged for American prisoners. The prize which the Insurgent recaptured, and the above privateer, were sent into Martinique, where the frigates arrived a few days after, watered and put to sea again. The Adams took under convoy 14 sail of Americans to St. Kitts; after which, she was to join the Insurgent, and cruise off Desseada, for three French frigates, which they learnt were coming down from Cayenne.

January 10.

The ship Kingsmill, capt. Marshall, from Cork to Baltimore, has arrived at Annapolis. She left Cork the 30th September.

Arrived, brig Herman, captain Bielfield, 90 days from Bremen. Left there, ship Sally of Beverly, capt. Patterson, to sail 1st October.

November 27, lat. 37, 16, long. 64, 30, spoke ship Ann, capt. Knowles Adams, from Gibraltar bound to New-York, out 46 days, wind W. N. W.

Dec. 17, lat. 36, 7, long. 69, spoke capt. Clark from Boston to Charleston, out 6 days.

December 30, lat. 38, 40, long. 70, spoke an American ship from Baltimore to Cork, out three days from the capes.

Capt. Bielfield brought in the captain and crew of the schooner Nancy of Portland, John Jones, master. The following account of her loss has been handed us by capt. Jones.

Sailed from Portland November 13, '99, bound to the West Indies. On the 19th December, lat. 37, 20, N. long. 62, 30, W. lying to, the wind at S. W. sprung a leak and in four hours filled with water—we cut away the main mast and kept her before the wind, saved some provisions and hoisted the small b at about half way up the fore mast and put in water and provisions, where we sta d most the time in bad weather; our quarter deck partly blew up, which made it difficult in getting fore and aft: in that situation we continued till the 28th; in the morning saw a sail to windward, but at such a distance that they took no notice of our distress; at 8 o'clock six of us embarked in the boat, leaving one man behind, who chose to risk his fate on the wreck, rather than go in the boat; after about 5 hours hard rowing we came in so near that they discovered us and bore away and received us on board—on the evening we fetched the wreck, got off the other man, saved some provisions we had lashed in the shrouds, and some sails. It proved to be the brig Friendship, Herman Bielfield, master, 77 days out from Bremen, bound to Baltimore, for whom I shall always retain the lasting sense I have of his goodness, humanity and politeness, while on board his vessel.

JOHN JONES.

Just Published,

A COMPENDIOUS SYSTEM

Of Practical Surveying and dividing of land; briefly comprized under the following heads, viz.

TWENTY-THREE Geometrical Definitions, eleven Geometrical Positions, exhibiting to view the properties and dependencies of triangles; followed by problems and examples preparatory to Trigonometry, heights and distances. Then fifteen problems and examples necessarily previous to calculating a Survey succeeded by seven surveys, the area of the four first is found geometrically, and of the whole number by difference of latitude and departure, shewing how to take an inaccessible boundary, find the bearing and distance of the closing line without running it, also the distances to an inaccessible corner from the two adjacent corners, followed by examples of offsets on to winding streams of water, shewing how to ascertain the area without the trouble of measuring the windings with chains and instruments—a crooked water course straitened, and a quantity of land on each side found by these offsets.

Ten examples of dividing land, with many sub divisions, leading into the most critical circumstances that can occur in practice; an example of Intersections, and an example shewing how the bearings of a field may be truly taken where the needle is attracted, altho' the attraction may vary in quantity and denomination at every station; examples shewing the method of measuring by the chain only. All the rules are clear and explicit. This work contains the tables of difference of latitude and departure and of logarithms.

Orders sent to Joseph and James Cruckshank, Booksellers, No. 87, High-street, Philadelphia, Bonsall and Niles, 173, Market Street, Baltimore, or the Subscriber in Wilmington (Del.) will be duly attended to.

Those who have the care of subscription papers for this work, are raquested to send their respective numbers as soon as possible, to whom the quota's will be sent agreeably to the proposals.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE time being fixed on, when the MILITARY LAND (commonly called Knox's) WARRANTS, granted to the United States' army, are to be registered and located,—the subscribers have explored that tract of land on which those warrants are to be laid; with a view, and for the purpose of offering their services as locaters.

We take the liberty of suggesting, "that weare at least as well acquainted with the situation, quality of the soil, &c. of the different townships in the aforesaid tract, as any other person:" this will, perhaps, appear more clearly, by observing, that WILLIAM C. SCHENK assisted in running the Indian boundary line; at which time he considerably traversed that tract: he also assisted in surveying and laying it off into townships, and at other times ranged over it, to gain information. But to obtain a more complete and accurate knowledge, we have lately spent between two and three months, with several assistants, in particularly examining the different townships and quarter townships; by which means we have acquired an accurate knowledge of the whole district.—We now offer our services to the public, as Locaters, with assurances that we will locate every persons warrants intrusted to us to the best advantage, agreeably to their rights of location, which is to be determined according to law. For our services we demand the one equal tenth part, either in lands or warrants, when we locate a full tract, of four thousand acres or more, for one person or firm; the land to be taken in a square, at a corner of the tract; which corner is to be equitably determined before the time of location.—The one equal sixth part, in cash or warrants, when we connect and locate any amount less than four thousand acres. We will be in Philadelphia from December next, until after the time of location, to transact this business. Any person wishing to satisfy himself farther, will please to call on us, by letter, (postage paid) or otherwise; when due attention will be paid, and such vouchers may be seen as we have to offer, which we hope will be satisfactory.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the short and pleasant road of Bustleton, Newtown, Scotch Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populousness of the country through which it passes, with sundry other advantages, which render it so far preferable to the Old Road through Bristol, Brunswick, &c. long ago suggested the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the present year, a minute survey of it has been taken, and its superiority over the Old Road, both in winter and summer, has been clearly ascertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the crossing is performed with great safety and in less than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is several miles shorter than the old road, but this is amongst the least of its advantages, because daily experience proves to us, that dispatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodness of the road and the levelness of the country, and, in these respects, the New Road is, beyond all comparison, the best. It presents none of those rocky hills, which render the Old Road so fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The soil, too, for the greater part, is such as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little dust in summer, which circumstance, added to the beauty of the country, and a considerable proportion of shade, must always render travelling in the latter season peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure starts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, opposite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth street. It goes through Frankford to Bustleton, where it stops to Breakfast; from Bustletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Millstone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it stops at Springfield to breakfast, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it starts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For seats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee house, to A. Mathieu, corner of Nassau and John streets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich street, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad street.

Fare for passengers, Five Dollars.
Way passengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each passenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a passenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With respect to packages sent on without passengers, the proprietors presume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of stages, they think must meet with general approbation, They pledge themselves to make good every package on the following conditions. The person who delivers the package at the office shall see it entered in the stage-book, for which entry he shall pay 6 cents; he will then state the value of the package, and pay (exclusive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as insurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for instance, if he estimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent, and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar insurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few persons it is presumed, will dislike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himself of this security or not. But the proprietors think it right to state very explicitly, that they will be responsible for the safe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an insurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the distribution of the route, the greatest care has been taken to fix on such places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the passengers at the most reasonable rates The stages are well equipped furnished with fleet and steady horses, and committed to the care of intelligent sober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themselves live at the different towns and villages where the stages will stop, so that the conduct of the persons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care also to see that the passengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no sort of chicanery or insolence is practised upon them; in short, they have spared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very best line of stages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every passenger has found the road to surpass very far all that has been said of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviou of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns spoken of with the highest satisfaction.
